Mom was about 14, and a student at Miss Beard's School in New Jersey, though she spent the summer in Maracaibo, Venezuela

Monday, May 23 - Mother got here today and phoned me during Latin class. Hacha! O boy, o boy

Saturday, May 28 - Mom & the Estabrooks & Bancrofts & I saw "The Cat & the Fiddle" - it was awfully cute.

Wednesday, June 1 - School's out for a summer.

Tuesday, June 7 - We saw Of Thee I Sing (Mom & I). It was darling.

Wednesday, June 15 - arrived home again in Maracaibo - Gee! It's great.

Saturday, July 16 - Met Bob Brookings at a cocktail party - I wasn't going to go, but he asked along with some others if I could be invited - and I was -

Wednesday, September 14 - We crossed to Aruba on the Lagunilla - I met a couple o'fellas - Ian Grey (1st officer) and Jim Wilson (2nd officer) - they'll pass.

Thursday, September 15 - We got on the Pan Bolivar to go to NY today.

Monday, September 26 - School - damned old school - opened today.

Tuesday, November 22 - I took my coach's test in hockey today with Mickey Brown and passed - Hacha - I'm a coach!

Thursday, December 15 - I got 100 in Algebra Test and A- in my last French test.

Friday, December 23 - got a Xmas card and a note from Bob Brookings - I never thought he'd write me.

Thursday, December 29 - I just got an invitation from the Bancrofts to spend New Year's weekend with them. I'm so glad.
