•Last Friday was J. Shumway's seventieth birthday and his children gave him a birthday party. Those present were: H. P. Shumway and wife of Wakefield: C. O. Shumway and family, L. G. Shumway and family, William Cass and family, Mrs Fremont Everett. These pleasant family reunions are, indeed, bright oasis along life's pathway. and oft as the fleeting years pass hurriedly down the corridors of time, our memories will ever revert back o'er the sands of time to these pleasant, happy occasions. Mr. Shumway was born October 15, 1837, in Oxford, Mass., and married Mary M. Paine at Webster, Mass., in July 1852. When the war broke out he enlisted in the Union army in Co. A 5th Minn and lent his aid and energy in subduing the haughty rebel foe. He settled in Lyons 16 years ago and has many friends here. Oct. 21 1897

- Woman's and Commercial Clubs Give Reception in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Shumway
Saturday evening according to the arranged plans of the official heads of the Woman's and Commercial Clubs, the friends and relatives of C. O. Shumway and wife assembled in good numbers at the Methodist Church to say good-bye and to wish them prosperity and happiness in their new home in Sheridan, Oregon, to which they began their journey Wednesday. The town and country about was well represented. The musical program consisting of songs in which all joined, piano selections by Miss Celia Fritts and Mrs. C.S. Newmyer and a violin solo by Mrs. Jas. Robins, received hearty applause. At the close of the musical program, Geo.W. Little, representing the clubs and guests, announced that Mr. Shumway and he had been requested to sing a duet, and calling Mr. Shumway to his side, reviewed briefly their amicable business relations covering a period of nearly twenty years as competitors in trade, spoke of Mr. Shumway's fidelity to his family and friends, and to the general good and prosperity of his town, wished him and his godspeed and presented them with a cut glass berry set as a remembrance and mark of esteem. Mr. Shumway expressed the full appreciation of his family for these evidences of friendship and regard, spoke of Lyons as their home, and assured all that their expressions and acts of friendship were appreciated, and would ever be remembered and looked back to, by himself and wife, as one of the brightest spots in life's journey. Refreshments were then served in the basement room of the church, a social hour enjoyed, and with good wishes, and a prosperous journey, good night was bade.
