GEORGE W. EDDY

George Washington Eddy, 86, West Mansfield, a retired farmer and former resident of Radnor, died Sunday at 3:20 p.m. at the home of a sister, Mrs. Lenora Boyce, West Mansfield. He had been in failing health for several years and seriously ill for the past two weeks.

Born March 8, 1880, in Tyler county, W. Va., he was a son of Albert G. and Mary Lyons Eddy. He married Beatrice Davis in West Virginia and she died in 1939.

Surviving are a son, Everett Eddy, R.F.D. 1, Marysville; a daughter, Mrs. Lulu Long, Delaware, three grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren. One grandson, Leonard Copeland, now of Cardington, was reared in the home of the deceased. Other survivors include a brother, J. O. Eddy, R.F.D. 1, Marysville; two sisters, Mrs. Boyce, in whose home he died at West Mansfield, and Mrs. Roy (Martha) Ballinger, R.F.D. 1, West Mansfield. Two sons, one daughter, three brothers and three sisters are deceased.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Ballinger funeral home, Richwood, with burial in Shoup cemetery near Radnor.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Monday.
